Career & Technical Education Courses Offered to Maryvale High School Students

Educating for Life

Marianna Hoffman is a senior from Maryvale High School and is enrolled in the Early Childhood Education program at Erie 1 BOCES Harkness Career and Technical Education Center.

"I enrolled in BOCES because I have always felt that teaching was what I was meant to do, and this program has really helped me find myself and shown me this is where I belong," said Marianna.

Under the instruction of Rose Ruh, Marianna has worked side-by-side with a certified teacher in a daycare or elementary classroom, taught her own lessons right out of the Erie 1 BOCES school and experienced the fun of early childhood years through art, music and storytelling.

"Marianna has been top notch since day one. She has a strong work ethic, gets along well with peers and is always willing to lend a helping hand," said Ruh. "Marianna was one of the first junior students to go out on internship last year. She certainly delivered. Her cooperating teacher commended her for doing a tremendous job."

In the fall of 2024, following graduation, Marianna plans on going to college for a major in early childhood education and a minor in business.

"This program has taught me not only the basics of educating young minds, but it has also given me the amazing opportunity to work in an elementary classroom, which I thoroughly enjoyed," she said.

As part of public education, Erie 1 BOCES offers a variety of career and technical programs during the regular school day to high school students in Erie County. High school students interested in learning more about how they can participate in various programs, such as early education, health careers, engineering and robotics, welding or the law, should visit www.e1b.org/cte or speak with their high school counselor.
